How to Get Typhoid Fever.

North Carolina Health Bulletin.

Now is the time to begin contracting your typhoid fever. Flies are coming on, and if your neighbor, who is a typhoid carrier or who has contracted his case of typhoid already does not use a sewer or a sanitary privy, be sure flies will establish a Fly-board Air Line, transporting typhoid fever germs free from his privy to your kitchen and dining room. What are you going to do about it? One of two things. Either screen your doors and windows or run the chance of contracting typhoid fever. But your neighbor may not have typhoid fever. But his filth may give your baby some form of diarrhoeal disease that will make him sick for weeks or end his life before the summer is over. Of course, you may call it by some polite name, as "summer complaint," but if your doctor tells you the real trouble it may usually be usually boiled down to the house flies or, better still, typhoid flies.

But it may not be your own or your neighbor's flies that cause the trouble. It may have been your butcher's flies, coming from his privy or slaughter house. Or it may have been your grocer's or peddler's flies coming from the filth and tuberculosis sputum of the streets. One of the best ways to get typhoid fever, however, is through impure milk. Milk is almost an ideal place for bacteria to live and grow, particularly if not ice-d or cooled immediately after milking. Typhoid germs usually get into the milk either by drowning or typhoid laden flies, or by washing the milk cans, or adulterating the milk with polluted water. Careless or filthy dairymen, milk dealers, hotel or restaurant keepers and all others that permit filth and filth to reach their milk are among the best typhoid fever vendors.

Polluting a public or private water supply is an excellent wholesale method of giving typhoid. When any person or family residing on the watershed contracts typhoid and no precautions are taken to disinfect the bowl discharges of such typhoid patients, the tiniest amount of their fecal matter, if washed down into the public water supply and not removed by efficient filtration, is very likely to produce a typhoid epidemic throughout the entire town. This very thing has occurred in North Carolina all too often already. The remedy for this is sanitary privies on the watershed, and efficient filtration plants, operated by intelligent filter men instead of day laborers, as is now too often the case.

In passing, let us not forget the private well with its old oak-bucket. Here are to be found the very best conditions for pollution. The top of the well is frequently open, the sides walled up with bricks or loose stones. Surface drainage frequently finds its way into the well and, worst of all, we often find a surface privy within less than a hundred feet of the well.

Mrs. R. Brant, 1115 Paden St., Parkersburg, W. Va., had an attack of lagrippe which left her bad kidney trouble, and she suffered much severe pain and backache. Then she heard of Foley Kidney Pills and says: "After taking them a short time the pain left my back and I was again able to do my house work. Foley Kidney Pills helped me wonderfully." For sale by all dealers.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts. For sale by all dealers.

The Divided Republicans.

Raleigh Evening Times.

If Roosevelt should be nominated by the Taft people getting in to a panic, and their managers unable to control the delegates chosen for Taft, we will not see any Taft third party or LaFollette third party, but we will see not less than two million patriotic Republicans in this country refusing to support any man on the face of the earth for a third term. They will not bolt thenomination, but they will simply stay at home and not vote. This is indicated by the returns from every state that has held a presidential preferential primary. It is a fact that not thirty per cent of the republican votes in the state of Illinois was polled for Taft and Roosevelt combined, and that Champ Clark received more democratic votes in that state than both of them. The same thing was true in the state of Maryland where only 20 per cent of the white republicans voted for Roosevelt and Taft and yet 80 per cent of the negro vote in that state was polled. The democrats polled more than 70 per cent of the total vote of the state and Clark carried the state.

There is a likelihood that there may be a jam at the Chicago convention and that if such should be the case, the republicans would say to one another: "A plague on both your houses." We will nominate a third man and we will take such a man as Senator Cummins, Iowa. If such should be the case, there is no doubt that the democrats have got a battle in front of them instead of a walkover, and it behooves them to put up the strongest man they can select at Baltimore. Whilst Cummins might be and probably would be thoroughly acceptable to the Roosevelt republicans; although Cummins is not as radical as Roosevelt, it probably would be the case that many of the Taft republicans would shy at the nomination like a moon-eyed horse at a black stump and a main from the polls yet, it would solidify to all intents and purpose the now badly split up republican party and make it harder for the democrats to win the election. Therefore, they must not make any mistake in the nomination of their candidate at Baltimore.

Saved His Mother's Life.

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a word of good. I will always praise them." Electric Bitters is a priceless blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health, strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50c at all dealers.

The Richeson Case.

Richeson, the degenerate, who murdered under the most shocking circumstances the young girl to whom he had been engaged to be married, has been awaiting for several days the summons from the Massachusetts sheriff who will take him to the electric chair. This was a most cowardly murder and the aspect of the case to which it is desirable to call attention is the admirable conduct of the officials of the commonwealth. The prosecution was prompt and efficient; the police were alert and intelligent and, finally, the governor of the commonwealth, Eugene Foss, has displayed great moral courage.

Tremendous pressure was brought to bear upon the governor for the exercise of clemency. Petitions were circulated; women and other sympathizers pleaded for mercy; cranks and vicious persons threatened the governor, who stood firm. The manner in which he displayed this firmness is as fine as it is rare. During his predecessor's term of office the question was raised whether the governor alone or the governor and his council might exercise the pardoning power; the courts decided that the governor might share his responsibility with the council, but that he possessed absolute power to pardon or to refuse to pardon a convicted person.

Here was a test for the governor. Every normal human being loathes the idea of taking a human being's life. The protection of society is the only justification in law and for governors in permitting men to be exterminated. Mr. Foss might readily have dodged the issue by referring the case to his council, but he knew that the man ought to be executed and he knew that the people of Massachusetts thought so, too, and so he shouldered the responsibility alone and refused a reprieve or pardon.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Midnight In The Ozarks.

And yet sleepless Hiram Scranton of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quincy, its the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all dealers.

Whether you screen him out, or swat him out, or catch him with fly paper or in a trap does not matter, but you must get rid of that fly. As long as he continues his visit to your home the doctor and the undertaker will continue theirs.—Lexington Dispatch.

"He drinks heavily." "I know it." He gambles." "I am going to marry him to reform him." "My girl, listen to me. Try one experiment before you do that." "What experiment?" "Take in a week's washing to do and see how you like it."—Louisville Courier Journal.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. C., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effective and doing her lots of good. If you have any trouble with your stomach and bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

Justice Triumphs.

The New York World comments to the point on the recent triumph of justice in Virginia:

"A Virginia jury has found Floyd Allen guilty of murder in the first degree for the shooting of Prosecutor William M. Foster, in the Hillsville court house last March. The lawless leader of the lawless clan who turned the court of justice into a shambles in two months well on his way to the gallows. Virginia justice sustains in this case the reputation for promptness and fairness which it gained in punishing Beattie, the wife killer."

"Massachusetts has won like commendation by its treatment of Richeson. The nature of his crime made his trial more complex and technical, but only a half a year has elapsed between deed and retribution. The court has done its work well, the insanity experts have not befogged the issue but helped to clear it, and the governor, while admitting that Richeson is not normal, refuses with refreshing common sense to stay the execution of a slayer who was fully responsible for his act."

"Massachusetts is Massachusetts and Virginia is Virginia. In New York we are not even yet, after five years, ten months and twenty-three days, rid of the scandals of the Thaw case, which is one of its constant and channel-like changes of form is still trifling with the time of the courts and trying the patience of the public."

Failure to convict in several notable cases in North Carolina is likewise remembered with regret. It is hoped that the example set by Virginia in the two cases referred to may have the good effect of stirring sentiment to a stricter enforcement of law, and to a surer punishment of the guilty in this and other states.—Charlotte News.

The Strange Word "Crowd"

Do you know how many words in the English language mean "crowd?"

Well, a few of them are given here: A crowd of ships is termed a fleet; a fleet of sheep is called a flock; a flock of girls is called a bevy; a bevy of wolves is called a pack; a pack of thieves is called a gang; a gang of angels is called a host; a host of porpoises is called a shoal; a shoal of buffaloes is called a herd; a herd of children is called a troop; a troop of partridges is called a covey; a covey of beauties is called a galaxy; a galaxy of ruffians is called a horde; a horde of rubbish is called a heap; a heap of oxen is called a drove; a drove of hoodlums is called a mob; a mob of whales is called a school; a school of worship is called a congregation; a congregation of engineers is called a corps; a corps of robbers is called a band; a band of bees is called a swarm; a swarm of people is called a crowd.—Ex.

Kicked By A Mad Horse.

Samuel Birch, of Beetown, Wis., had a most narrated escape from losing his leg, as no doctor could heal the frightful sore that developed, but at last Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it completely. Its the greatest healer of ulcers, burns, boils, eczema, scalds, cuts, corns, old sores, bruises and piles on earth. Try it. 25c. at all dealers.

Courts and Justice.

There is a good deal that is not right in the administration of justice. We are speaking generally and not with reference to local courts.

The complaints often make against courts are these; There is too much delay; too much expense; too much idolatry of ancient rules and precedents; too many trials; too many appeals.

All these things coupled frequently with the jugglery of technicalities by subtle and shrewd lawyers, often make for the disadvantage of the poor and the benefit of the rich.

Now there has come a time with some political leaders propose a plan giving the people the right to recall the judges. They say it is largely the fault of judges that they make litigation too expensive and too tedious. It is claimed they never have appeared to acknowledge these bad conditions and try to remedy them.

It is only a few years since that the proposition of recalling judges was generally discussed throughout the country. It has grown with great rapidity, largely through the influence of men like Bryan, LaFollette and Roosevelt. The fact that he favors the recall of the judiciary is one of the chief arguments being used against the latter. It is claimed by opponents of the idea that it is revolutionary and unwise. It remains to be seen with the result of the agitation will be.—Twin City Sentinel.
